

PRESS RELEASE

This is not just a garage sale ... this is Leadenham Village Garage Sale

June is bursting out all over and so are the contents from the garages of Leadenham village!

The annual Leadenham Village Garage Sale & Craft Fair taking place on Saturday 26 June features a huge variety of household items for sale but also a vast array of creative bric a brac, antiques and curiosities.

Organiser Melanie Luff says: "There's such a lot of creative people living in and around our village so visitors will be able to browse jewellery, vintage & retro home and garden items, handmade children's clothing as well as fibre, wool, driftwood and wax melt crafts.

The day starts at 10am from the village hall where maps plotting a route around the village are on sale for £1 each. In addition to the front yards, there are 30 stalls featuring artisan products and home made crafts and gifts spread between the hall, two marquees and six gazebos providing plenty of space for visitors to browse and purchase safely.

Local businesses have provided a number of fantastic raffle prizes and of course there will be teas and cake on sale throughout the day.

There is free car parking at the hall and all funds raised are in aid of the village hall. The event closes at 3pm.
